

MCME

MAKILING CENTER FOR MOUNTAIN ECOSYSTEMS

Established on June 25, 1998, the Makiling Center for Mountain Ecosystems (MCME) became the first center in the Philippines which focuses on the science and management of mountain ecosystems.

MCME is an academic institution committed to generate and strengthening the scientific knowledge for the conservation and sustainable development of tropical mountain ecosystems in partnership with mountain communities.

MCME aims to advance knowledge and promote sustainable development of Mt Makiling and other tropical mountain ecosystems through integrated participatory research and demonstration programs.
